BRILLIANTLY WEDDED.

The Marriage of Mr. Charles Wagoner to Miss Ada Siffert.

Guests to the number of between 150 and 175 were present at the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Siffert, 107 Prospect street, last night, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ada, to Mr. Charles Wagoner.
Prof. Feuchtinger played the wedding march at exactly 8 o'clock, the marriage ceremony being conducted by Mrs. Siffert's brother, the Rev. S. A. Corl, of Leon, Ashtabula county. The wedding party formed a very pretty group, as arranged in the parlor, where the culmination of the happy event took place. The bride, a graceful brunette, wore nun's veiling, becomingly made, and carried a mass of white bridal roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Albie McCutcheon, of Canton, had a pink silk gown, in pleasant contrast with the white, and carried buff roses. The groom's best man was Mr. Will Camp, of Brooklyn, N. Y.
The usual reception followed the ceremony, after which the guests remained until 12 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Wagoner slipped off in time to catch the 10 o'clock train east, having Cleveland as their destination, where they will remain a week or two.
The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome book case, his best man presenting a complete set of Haviland china. Other presents were numerous, including center tables, table service, lamps, furniture, and many other articles of usefulness and value. "Four jolly bachelors" whose identity is known only to themselves, mystified the party, with their card upon a plush covered rocking chair.
Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Corl, J. M. Corl and Mrs. Jacob Corl, of Navarre; Mr. Walter Marshall and Miss Susie Marshall, and Mrs. Perry Teeple, of Akron. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corl and two sons, the Misses Diebold, Mr. Apple Diebold, Miss Annie McCutchen and Mr. Steward, of Canton; Misses Angie and Cora Siffert, of Bolivar.

MR. M'QUEARY'S CASE.

Said That He Will Not Preach in Canton Again.

Special Dispatch to The Independent.
CANTON, March 18.—Although the Rev. Mr. MacQueary refused to talk of his plans this morning, it is well understood that he does not intend preaching another sermon in Canton. It is no secret that his friends here, indeed if he himself, expected a verdict of acquittal. The fact that Meers, Gallagher and Smythe, of the court, were for acquittal, and that another member was confidently expected to be with them, has led to an expression of the opinion that the bishop's presence was a strong influence in bringing about the result, the three Cleveland members only being for conviction. There is no expectation that the suspended minister will avail himself of the opportunity to be reinstated at the end of his six months' suspension. On the other hand, it is certain that the result drives him out of the Episcopalian and into the Unitarian church. While he has declined to talk to reporters on his future movements, it is well understood that he has several offers from Unitarian churches. The Unitarian Church of the Messiah, of Chicago, the leading Unitarian church of Toronto, Canada, and other congregations have made proposals to him, which he is to have under consideration, only awaiting a verdict before resigning.

THE GOOD ST. PATRICK.

IRISH BORN CITIZENS CELEBRATE HIS DAY.

"St. Patrick's Day in the morning" was celebrated in this city in the evening, the celebration being appropriately and admirably conducted under the name of the Ancient Order of Hibernians—the gentlemen of the order lending, principally, the weight of the name, while the unassuming ladies went quietly and effectively to work and, by their industry, zeal and excellent management contributed mainly to rendering the event a delightfully pleasant and ever memorable one to the participants and spectators. The net proceeds, amounting to about $175, went to St. Joseph's church.

THE REV. DR. D. J. STAFFORD.

The programme of exercises, as arranged, and published, to be conducted in Music Hall, was carried out, with the exception of the character sketch by Joseph Dannemiller, who was unavoidably absent; the character song by F. X. Stucker, and the address on "Irish Statesmen" by E. E. Dresbach, who was detained at Columbus with weighty affairs of state. An elegant supper was served by the ladies from 5 to 8 o'clock and a liberal patronage was bestowed upon their efforts.

Music Hall was fittingly decorated for the occasion, with the familiar color predominating in every conceivable form of display. The stage was elaborately ornamented with the elegant banners of the A. O. H. and St. Paul's Benevolent Society, while conspicuous over all were the American colors. The ladies wore green dresses, green aprons and green ribbons, the greater portion of the males being bedecked with green rosettes, green neckties or boutonnieres of shamrock.

After ample justice had been done to the physical feast the tables were cleared and the literary menu was spread before an audience which overran the seating capacity of the hall. The choir of St. Mary's church, with Gust. Paul at the piano, rendered with excellent effect the chorus, "Praise the Lord." Dr. Stafford made an eloquent introductory address, prefacing his remarks by reciting "The harp that once through Tara's halls the soul of music shed," giving a glowing description of the scene which inspired the eternal poem. The doctor referred to the condition of Ireland when happiness and peace and plenty reigned over the beautiful land, and described the conditions when a change came, to destitution and misery. Ireland has made a fight for principle. When a man makes a fight for principle he is to be admired by all men and has within him the elements of nobility, but it is a more marvelous spectacle to see a whole nation struggling for principle. As Americans we must admire such an effort; we must be interested in every nation battling for liberty; we must exclaim, "Give Ireland liberty." The thirst for and love of knowledge and education by the Irish race must be admired; their characteristics as a race must be admired. Let every one rejoice in the principles of the Irish as a nation and a class.

Gen. I. R. Sherwood read a carefully prepared paper on "The Irish Soldier in the War," devoting a half hour's time, mainly, to personal recollections of the Irish soldier; giving brief historical sketches of the conspicuous part taken in the rebellion by those distinguished Irish generals, Sheridan, Kilpatrick, Jas. B. Steedman, Phil Kearney, and Shields; Col. Chas. G. Halpin, the poet soldier, and General Logan and Sikes, whose mothers were Irish women. The speaker claimed that an Irishman was more of a natural born soldier than any other race, having all the requisite characteristics for warfare, and that no chapter of the rebellion could be written without paying tribute to Irish valor. He referred to the fortitude and cheerfulness of the subject of his text under all circumstances; narrated several incidents illustrative of the Irish soldier's ready wit, and closed with a beautiful tribute to the manly and soldierly qualities of the Irish race.

To Mr. L. C. MacPherson was assigned the pleasant duty of discussing "Irish Poets." The gentleman apologized for neglecting to prepare something befitting the occasion, and assured his audience that he would only indulge in a little chat upon the text laid down. Irish poetry, said the speaker, is spontaneous; it gushes from the heart; it treats of love. A brief history of Irish poetry was given—how it was first taught among the poor in the hedges of the green isle and through the yet popular medium of street ballads. Thomas Moore was the prince of all Irish poets, his "Lalla Rookh" and other grand visions being among the finest verifications in literature. Mr. MacPherson was awarded generous applause for his admirable recitation of "The Ballad of Shandon," and the boys and girls who composed a great part of the audience could scarcely be quieted after hearing the gentleman recite "Four and Twenty

Why not adopt standard time?

The Cleveland Leader says that the great objection to the restoration of the direct tax money to the counties from which it came, is the tendency such action would have to cause extravagance. Exactly. Just think of the wickedly wasteful proposal to invest Stark county's share in a pile of brick and mortar which a few hot heads desire for alleged "memorial" purposes, while the ink is hardly dry upon county deficiency bonds, with the deficiency growing every day.

It may clear up the situation and assist in a popular comprehension of the same to state that there is no probability of an election of a board of education by wards this spring—a consummation devoutly to be wished. The matter has been discussed pro and con at school board meetings and outside, and it appears that until the city formally advances in grade there is an option, but no necessity for a change. In the absence of mandatory and explicit statutory requirements, it is altogether likely, Gaumer bill or no Gaumer bill, that section 3889 R. S. will be taken as authority for proceedings this spring as in the past. That section reads: "Municipal corporations hereafter created or advanced to higher grade * * * shall, from and after their creation or advancement, be school districts corresponding to their grade."

Come to think of it, the proposed plan of nominating a United States senator, by the state convention, has a number of objectionable features. State conventions can be manipulated with but little more difficulty than legislatures, and to throw such an issue into close counties would naturally tend to defeat the local candidate for the legislature on the weaker side. Would it not be better to conduct a primary election on a large scale? For instance, permit any name to be placed upon the state ticket, with only such restrictions as would keep off the names of local favorites, brought out to secure complimentary votes. By some such plan the members of both parties, having some latitude as to choice, could hit upon some two candidates having the plurality backing of their respective parties.

The Cleveland Leader has information that there is on foot a Democratic conspiracy to defeat Governor Campbell in his candidacy for renomination. There will be made, The Leader says, in a leading Democratic paper of the state, an attack on Campbell's private character, and the charges made will be promulgated simultaneously at Washington and at Cincinnati. A number of financial schemes in which the Governor is interested will be treated historically, the ballot-box affair will be reopened and some hitherto unknown chapters in the history of the case will be given to the public, and the Governor will be connected with the Potomac flats deal in Washington. Poor Campbell! Had he been honest in his political professions how different it all might have been.

AT THE COUNTY SEAT.

Snatches of News from City and the Court House.

CANTON, March 18.—The Rev. Howard MacQuary, just adjudged guilty of heresy, said that as yet he had received no official notification of the verdict. He thinks it possible to obtain a new trial should there be a permanent disagreement as to penalty. The rector has no made public his future intentions.

Mrs. Robert Cully who is an important witness in the Maxwell abortion case was arrested and placed under bond for her appearance at trial. She could not give bail and was given an apartment in the jail. Her husband, was also a witness but went to Scotland some time since and it was reported that she intended to follow.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Harry Ault and Dollie Delgame, Canton; James A. English and Blanche Spencer, Canton; Alfred F. Linton and Mary Edwards, Canton.

Ex County Treasurer Doll is the latest to announce himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor, this morning, thus making five candidates before the people.

Charles Atkins had a shoulder dislocated by a fall in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. He is under a physician's care and improving.

Emma McCannery, Charles Kitters, Julia Kates and William Sayes, the quartet giving their address as Massillon, and arrested at the Union Hotel Sunday morning, were arraigned before the mayor, the charge preferred being disturbing the peace. They pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each.

A trades' union will be organized in Canton on Friday night, the preliminary steps having met with success.

Edward Greminger, an employee of Willis, Lind & Co.'s lumber yard, had two fingers mashed in a lathe, yesterday.

The coroner has not yet rendered a verdict in the Navarre wreck or Alliance infanticide cases.

Rinaldo Steen, of Carrollton, while intoxicated, endeavored to board a morning train on the Cleveland & Canton road, was thrown under the wheels and had his right arm cut off at the shoulder.

St. Patrick's day was observed by local Irish people with an entertainment at the Grand opera house last night. The Rev. Dr. Murphy, of Cleveland, delivered a lecture on "Ireland, Yesterday and Today."

The residence of Q. W. Lerch, on the Richview road, four miles from town, burned this morning, with all its contents, involving a loss of $1,200. It was caused by sparks igniting the roof. The owner is a brother of T. F. Lerch, whose disappearance under mysterious circumstances some weeks ago, created a sensation.

A CASE FROM EAST GREENVILLE.

A Mother, Daughter and Son Charged With Intent to Kill.

Armed with a state warrant, Constable Cannon went to East Greenville this morning and arrested Mrs. Jane Lewis, Cassie Lewis, her daughter, and John Lewis, her son, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. N. S. Tombow is the prosecuting witness. The basis of the charge is the result of a family unpleasantness. John Lewis, one of the defendants, was married last August to a daughter of Tombow, and the pair have since separated. It is said that Tombow went to the Lewis residence for the purpose of removing some of the household effects for the benefit of his daughter, and on that occasion was the alleged assault committed. The defendants were taken into Justice Folger's court this afternoon and gave bail for a preliminary hearing on Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Mystery solved.

The Orrville Crescent of this week has the true inwardness of a news article which appeared last week:

"We are now able to explain the mysterious disappearance of a drover from a stock train the Ft. Wayne road, between Orrville and Massillon, a couple of weeks ago. A dead beat named James Agen, of Chicago, wanted to pay his wife a visit at his former home at North Lawrence, and he went to the Chicago stock yards and hired out to a drover, and when the train arrived at Lawrence he mysteriously disappeared, causing his employer and the train men considerable uneasiness. Agen remained in Lawrence over night and took his departure the next day, taking his wife with him."

Mayor's Court.

Jimmie McGuire, the notorious fighting Irishman, ran an individual side show celebration of St. Patrick's Day, and Officer Stie'ke, who arrested him last night, found it necessary to club him before he would succumb. He is yet in the cooler. It may be necessary to banish the irrepressible again from the city.

To reduce my stock, preparatory to making extensive improvements in my store rooms, I will offer my entire stock of groceries, queensware and lamps, at and below cost, for 30 days. Wm. A. Pletzer, proprietor Enterprise grocery, No. 1 West Main street.

The new homestead bread contains no adulteration but is pure, sweet and wholesome. Made by A. J. Richeimer.

THE GOOD ST. PATRICK.

Blackbirds, "Little Jack Horner" and other never dying M. ther Goose melodies, (he has four babies at home) the authorship of nearly all of which nursery rhymes was attributed to an Irish woman who lived in Boston town a great many years ago. The address was enthusiastically received by the hearers and was also highly complimented by Dr. Stafford before announcing the next number on the programme.

A recitation by Master Emmet Leahy, son of Deputy Sheriff Leahy, "Erin's Flag," was a creditable piece of elocutionary work and received merited applause.

The musical features of the evening's entertainment were highly enjoyable. Joe Ess received an encore for his cornet solo which could not be ignored; he responded by playing "Killarney," a melody specially adapted for the cornet, and it was given in such inimitable style that the building trembled with the applause bestowed. The Mandolin club was also compelled to recognize an encore and gave a medley of Irish airs which caused every pair of feet in the building to move in harmony with the music.

The entire celebration was admirably managed and was, in every particular, a gratifying success.

ECHOES FROM THE SHOPS.

Note and Comment on Men and Doings at Russell Co's.

This column should have said yesterday that Henry Hubbard had gone to Peru, Ind.

Every body around here were Irish yesterday, and the badge of their nationality took many forms, from the real shamrock to yards of green calico, worn by true representatives of the Emerald isle, as well as some of the sturdy delegates from the river Rhine, who are all Uncle Sam's boys in everything that goes to make the genuine American citizen.

George Zellers says that those friends who are so anxious to know all about his visits to Canal Fulton, will, if they take the pains their ungovernable curiosity suggests they are capable of, be able to find his experiences in that village written in mud, not unmixt with tears, on a telephone pole, which he declares is the most numerous article in that section.

The grip seems to afflict most everybody, a great many of the boys are complaining of the numberless aches and pains, characteristic of this complaint though continuing at work, while many have been confined to the house by it. The ranks are often thinned in the various departments for days at a time, as many as eighteen being off in the foundry at one time last week.

J. F. Peilbach, H. C. Penning, H. Peterson and V. D. Hanlon are truly four jolly bachelors. They have a substantial way of remembering any of their number who may fortunately or unfortunately chance to be enrolled among the benedicts. Last night they presented our young friend Carl Wagner with an ample and luxurious chair in which he can call up, in years to come the days when he was one of the jolly five. It was an affecting scene to see Peilbach and Penning in tearful silence take leave of their old comrade. There was a longing in their eyes that argues well for like ceremonies in the near future in which their names will be conspicuous. It is surprising that such tender loving hearts as these have not been sacrificed long ago.

Thursday Night, at Buchers.

"The U. S. Mail" opened to an excellent house, and its initial performance was a success calculated to convince its author that he had evolved a winning play from the depth of his inner consciousness, a country newspaper, and a postoffice, and to assure the proprietors that they owned a play which could be safely counted on to catch the fickle fancy of the amusement public.—St. Louis Republic.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. CHEATED UNCLE SAM.

FOUR LETTER CARRIERS REMOVED AND FOURTEEN SUSPENDED.

The Postmaster General Has Succeeded in Ferreting Out Delinquents, Who Are Guilty of Knocking Down Car Fare, Omitting Collections from Boxes, Etc.—Peculiarities of the Free Delivery.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Postmaster General Wanamaker's summary removal of four letter carriers in the force of the Washington postoffice and his suspension of fourteen others has already had an almost magical effect upon the free delivery service in this city. The removed carriers, it was proved, visited saloons while on duty, "knocked down" street car tickets, and omitted collection from certain boxes upon their routes. All of the removed and suspended men except one have been guilty of charging for over time under the eight-hour scheme for carriers. The postmaster general has been aware of these facts for some time, but has only just now succeeded in having the delinquents ferreted out. "The free delivery service," the postmaster general said, "is peculiar. It is without a counterpart in the United States. Ten thousand men are employed in this branch of the postal service; each man goes his rounds alone, with no one but himself to know with what.

Honesty and Integrity of Purpose, with what assiduity and faithfulness he performs his responsible duties. In June, 1884, congress granted letter carriers fifteen days leave of absence annually, with pay. This costs the government this year $24,000. In May, 1888, congress reduced the hours of service of letter carriers to the minimum eight hours per day. This has cost the government more than a million dollars annually. The eight-hour enactment also provided that for service in excess of eight hours per day letter carriers should receive additional pay pro rata. This clause providing for overtime is such a temptation to tardiness and loitering, all at the expense of prompt and efficient service, that many carriers have not been able to do without it. It is a serious matter; $8,416,000 are paid annually in salaries to letter carriers, and in addition the government expends $118,000 in street car tickets and $292,000 for horse hire and wagons. This is not alone to expedite the carrier service and improve its reliability; it is also to alleviate the burdens of the carriers."

KEPHART'S PENSION CLAIM.

An Important Decision Rendered by Assistant Secretary Bussey.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Assistant Secretary Bussey has rendered an important decision, reversing the practice of the pension offices and correcting a misconception of the act of June 27, 1890—the dependent pension law. This decision applies directly to the claim of Schuyler Kephart, a son of the late Samuel A. Kephart, first lieutenant of company E, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers. The claimant, who is now 24 years of age, whilst a minor, was pensioned on account of the death of his father and his pension ceased in 1882, when he reached the age of 16 years. An appeal was taken for a restoration of the pension under the dependent pension law, providing for widows and minor children. The appeal is based on the allegation that, although claimant is beyond the period of minority, he is permanently helpless and is entitled to restoration under the new law. The assistant secretary holds that, assuming that present proof of the existence of such disabilities are abundant, the claimant is governed by an obvious misapprehension of the law. The claimant's pension ceased in 1882 and this fact, Gen. Bussey holds, debar him from receiving the benefits of the late law, as there is no provision in the act of June 27, 1890, nor in any other act, whereby a minor's pension that has lapsed for years by reason of age may be revived and started afresh.

Asks Indemnity for Her Husband's Death.
WASHINGTON, March 18.—The claim for indemnity for her husband's death made by the widow of the late Gen. Barrundia has been received at the state department and is in the hands of Mr. Patridge, the law officer of the government, who will present it to Secretary Blaine this week. State department officials think the claim is not a good one.

PRINCE NAPOLEON DEAD.

His Long and Lingering Sufferings Came to an End.

BAD OUTLOOK.

New Orleans Threatened with a Disastrous Overflow.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—The river reached 16.8 feet above low water yesterday, within one-tenth of a foot of the highest last year and the highest ever known. It is now evident that the flood of 1891 will exceed considerably that of 1890 and be the greatest ever known.

REV. MR. MACQUEY FOUND GUILTY.

The Canton Episcopal Clergyman Who Denied the Immaculate Conception and Physical Resurrection of Christ.

CLEVELAND, March 18.—The Episcopal court which heard the charge of heresy against Rev. Howard MacQueary, of Canton, O., held three long sessions at Trinity cathedral yesterday. Rev. Mr. MacQueary was found guilty as charged by a vote of 3 to 2. Those voting against him were Dean Morgan, of Trinity, and Rev. Messrs. Aves, of St. John's, and Putnam, of Emmanuel, all of this city. Rev. Messrs. Gallagher, of Painesville, and Smyth, of Toledo, voted not guilty.

Having been convicted, the court took up the question of Mr. MacQueary's penalty. There are three forms of punishment. First, admonition; second, suspension, and third, expulsion. Messrs. Gallagher and Smith voted to permit Mr. MacQueary to go scot free. Inasmuch as the Canton author and heretic had been admonished, no one voted to admonish him again. Mr. Aves thought he ought to be suspended, while Messrs. Morgan and Putnam were in favor of expulsion and were so recorded. The verdict means that Mr. MacQueary will leave the church, for his suspension, if ordered, would continue until he retracted his well-known views on the birth and resurrection of Christ, which he would refuse to do.

When his penalty is finally fixed, together with the opinion of the court, will be sent to Bishop Leonard, who in turn will transmit it to Mr. MacQueary. The bishop can modify the penalty, but he cannot increase it. It is likely, however, that he will permit it to stand just as pronounced. The opinion of the court will be short, and great care will be taken in its preparation, as bitter attacks are expected to follow its application.

Rev. Howard MacQueary is rector of an Episcopal church at Canton, O., and is a young man. The cause of his arraignment for heresy was a book which he wrote, in which he denied the immaculate conception and the physical resurrection of Christ. He held, in brief, that God's spirit entered Christ and made Him a perfect man, and that when He arose from the dead, it was a spiritual resurrection and not a resurrection of the body.

IRISHMEN OF NEW YORK

Celebrate St. Patrick's Day in a Fitting Manner.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Brilliant weather favored the Irishmen of New York in their celebration of St. Patrick's day. The most important parade of the day was formed at 1 o'clock at Washington Square. The procession after marching through several streets was reviewed at Seventeenth street and Broadway by the mayor and other civic authorities. At the conclusion of the parade through the city a successful demonstration was held at Jones Wood coliseum. The route of the procession was lined with spectators, most of whom wore green emblems. The second parade, consisting of Thirty-eight divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this county and three visiting divisions, started from Fifty-third street and Fifth avenue at 1:30 o'clock. They paraded through several streets to Selzer's Harlem river park, where addresses were delivered by John E. Fitzgerald, of Boston; Hon. John R. Fellows, Delancy Nicoll and others.

TO BREAK AWAY FROM ENGLAND.

MONTREAL, March 18.—England and France having arrived at no satisfactory conclusions in regard to the New Foundland difficulties, a strong feeling prevails in the latter country to break away from England. A government official of New Foundland, writing on the subject, says: "The day for reconciliation is now passed and a movement is now on foot, not for reciprocity, but for admission into the American Union. We have had too much experience with British injustice to seek more by entering into a Canadian confederation. The people are not alone in this matter, but have the support of many members of both governments. What is more, it is almost an open secret that a delegation is now preparing to visit Washington to gauge the feeling and see whether terms could be brought about."

MIDGET INDEED.

A Child Weighing but Two Pounds and Still Healthy and Well.

GREENCASTLE, IND., March 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shultz, of this city, have a prodigy in their cradle in the shape of a girl baby weighing only two pounds. It was born on the 9th inst. and is as lively and healthy as any other child of its age. The other children born to them were of the regulation weight, but it is given out by the couple that the period of gestation in this instance did not exceed seven months. The father is a barber of this city.

SHE BREAKS THE RECORD.

A Tennessee Woman Gives Birth to Five Children in One Year.

MILAN, TENN., March 18.—Mrs. Tom Williams, living near Bradyville, has given birth to five children in a year, twins at one time and triplets at another. The triplets arrived yesterday, and are all girls, weighing six pounds each.

TEMPER OF THE PEOPLE.

THE FEELING IN NEW ORLEANS OVER INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS.

Property Holders Liable to Pay a Large Sum for Damages to the Families of Any of the Eleven Men Killed—Some of the Victims Said to be American Citizens.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—The international character that the mob of Saturday has taken was a surprise to all, and has caused some anxiety here. New Orleans has had several big damage bills to pay on account of similar mob outbreaks. In 1853, after the shooting of Crittenden and other American filibusters who went with Lopez to Cuba, the populace rose, attacked the Spanish residents of this city, and drove the Spanish consul from his residence. The mob was denounced by President Fillmore and heavy damages paid. Again, in 1873, New Orleans had to pay a large sum for the damages to property inflicted by a mob. Attention of property-holders is called to the fact that the families of any of the eleven men killed have a good suit for damages against the city for its failure to protect them. Said to be American Citizens.

Relative to the international feature of the affair, an attempt will be made to show that all the men lynched by the mob had repudiated their allegiance to the king of Italy and were American citizens. During December complaint was made by the Italian consul that the Italian prisoners were being badly treated and abused in the Parish prison. He attempted to interfere and Baron Fava, the Italian minister at Washington, saw Mr. Blaine about the matter. The answer was then made to Mr. Blaine's message on the subject that all the prisoners were American citizens. There seems to be some difference of opinion on this subject. It is claimed by Signor Corte that three of the dead men were still Italian subjects—Monasterio, Trabena and Marchesi. It should be noted, by the way, that the bodies of these men were the only ones not claimed by some friend or relative, and that they were buried by the city in the potter's field without an attendant or ceremonies of any kind. On the other hand, it is asserted by the registrar of voters that all these men were registered and had voted at the last election.

Louisiana's Constitution.

The constitution of Louisiana allows a foreign-born citizen to register and vote as soon as he gives notice of his intention to become naturalized and before his final naturalization papers are issued to him. As the Italian vote has lately become an important element politically, being the controlling element in two wards, the leaders here saw to it that the moment a vessel arrived from Italy steps were taken to prepare the newcomers for citizenship. The chances, therefore, are in favor of the men being registered and giving notice of their intention to become American citizens. The greatest doubt is in regard to Antonio Monasterio. He arrived here Jan. 27, 1890. Although a common shoemaker, he was a man of education, and it is said had been a professor in Italy. It was from his shanty that the murderer fired on Hennessy, and the police claim that he commanded the squad and directed the shooting. Two of the men still confined in the parish prison, and who escaped the lynching, are acknowledged by all to be Italian subjects. They are Pietro Natoli and Sebastian Incardona, and the boy, Aspio Marchesi, is also claimed by the Italian consul.

Signor Corte's Letter.

Signor Corte addressed a letter to the governor, calling his attention to the fact that the prisoners were Italian subjects, and asking that they be assured protection to their lives and a fair trial. Signor Corte sent full particulars about the lynching to Baron Fava and the Italian government Saturday, and has had no further communications to make on this subject. He says that there have been no other indignities offered to the Italian colony here, and he does not anticipate any, as he thinks that peace has been fully restored. Full particulars of the riot were telegraphed from here to the Italian papers.

Ex-Secretary of State Bayard's Opinion.

WILMINGTON, DEL., March 18.—Ex-Secretary of State Bayard, when asked for his opinion of the killing of the subjects of the king of Italy at New Orleans, on Saturday, took the ground that there is no basis on which the Italian government can claim indemnity. "The disturbance," Mr. Bayard said, "was purely local, and there was no affront offered to the representatives of the Italian government; neither was there any discrimination between citizens of the United States and those of Italy. Bad as it was, all were used alike."

Strike Threatened on the Gould System.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—A serious strike is threatened on the Gould system. A grievance committee from the Order of Railway Conductors has been in conference with the officers of the Missouri Pacific road for several days. Negotiations have reached a very critical stage, and the conductors say that if the strike does come the engineers, switchmen and brakemen will go out with them. The railroad officials refuse to say anything except that there is trouble. The conductors want some of the members of their order re-instated.

$1,000,000 LOST IN NEW YORK.

An Eight-Story Building at Green and Bleecker Streets a Mass of Ruins.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Yesterday evening fire started in the eight-story building at Green and Bleecker streets, occupied by Alfred Benjamin & Co., wholesale clothiers, and in two hours the great structure was a mass of ruins. The loss on building and stock is estimated at about $1,000,000. There were 350 employees at work in the building when the fire broke out and great excitement ensued. One hundred girls were at work on the top floor. When they saw the smoke pouring in volumes from the shaft there was a panic. Several of them screamed "Fire" and the next minute the hundred were scrambling over each other toward the stairway screaming. They reached the street in safety. The employees on the other floors had received the warning and rushed out of the building. A member of the firm says that there was more than $600,000 worth of stock and samples in the building when the fire broke out. The building was worth about $500,000. Both stock and building are a total loss. No cause can be assigned for the fire.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATORS BRIBED.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., March 18.—After the adjournment of the joint legislative convention yesterday a tremendous sensation was caused by the entrapping of several of the legislators in an actual case of bribery in behalf of Felton. A prominent Republican has been for several days in possession of information that members of the legislature were being bribed to vote for a United States senator. A memorandum was fished out of the waste basket in the state library on which names and amounts were given. It had been torn up by some careless hoodler, but was pasted together again by the person who found it. This evidence was quickly followed to its conclusion and the whole thing turned over to Attorney General Hart. That official, when asked to tell the story, said: "The amount of money to be used for purchasing the votes was $21,600. This money was drawn from a bank in Fresno, but the name of the bank I will not give you. The amount to be paid each member was $2,000. This is all I shall say."

FRANK I. FRAYNE DEAD.

The Well-Known Actor Passes Away at Chicago of Neuralgia of the Heart.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Frank I. Frayne, the well-known actor, who has been ill at the Clarendon hotel for the past three weeks, died yesterday of neuralgia of the heart. The deceased was 52 years of age. Mr. Frayne was well known here, as well as all over the country. He had been playing sensational plays for a number of years, having with him on the stage trained animals of all kinds. He and his wife, the late Clara Butler, used to be popular as crack shots, and after her death a young lady was engaged to fill her part. An apple used to be placed on her head and he would shoot it off, but he missed it in Cincinnati about five years ago and the bullet from the gun entered the young lady's head and she was killed. The shooting was then abandoned by Mr. Frayne and the animals substituted as a drawing card. Mr. Frayne was booked for an appearance at Harris' theatre in the spring. He was a clever fellow and quite a good actor in his line.

Dr. Burrell, it is understood, will receive $10,000 a year, and in case of disability, $5,000 a year for the rest of his life, and when he dies $5,000 a year for his wife, if she survives him.

Weavers Trying to Come to Terms.

FALL RIVER, MASS., March 18.—Secretary Conway of the Weavers' association, accompanied by Messrs. Walcott and Barry of the state board of arbitration, arrived here yesterday and visited the Cornell mills for the purpose of trying to arrange some means for settling the strike in the mills means.

GLADSTONE'S OVATION.

HIS SPEECH COVERED THE IRISH QUESTION VERY FULLY.

He Comments on the Excellent Work Done on the Basis of Home Rule and the Integrity of the Empire—The Liberal Party in a Very Healthy Condition.

LONDON, March 18.—In his speech at Hastings yesterday Mr. Gladstone said he found little to blame in the recent foreign policy of Lord Salisbury. He severely condemned the course pursued by Mr. Goschen, as chancellor of the exchequer, in concocting fictitious surpluses. The finances of the country were intimately connected with the liberties of the country, said Mr. Gladstone, and he protested against attempts to undermine the powers of the house of commons to control the national expenditures. Ten millions of pounds had been set apart in 1889 for expenditures on the navy, the payment of the money to be extended over ten years. Mr. Gladstone made the point that it was injudicious to anticipate in this way as the changes in naval architecture in the course of ten years might make useless all the prodigious expenditure. No women ever thought of buying dresses ten years ahead, when the chances were that the fashions would keep on changing [hear]. Turning to Irish questions, Mr. Gladstone said that the present condition of the Irish parliamentary party was the result of a long series of events. It could not be disputed that the members of a party were bound to sink individual preferences and defer to the action of the majority.

Something About Parnell's Speech. Before proceeding further he would like to say a word about Mr. Parnell's speech, in which that gentleman had stated that he had opposed the claims of the labor candidates in consequence of his obligation to the Liberal leaders. That statement was untrue. On the contrary, said Mr. Gladstone, I have been ready to support the claims of labor candidates. After a slight allusion to the divorce court proceedings, Mr. Gladstone said that the Liberals were ready to face defeat to the full extent if necessary rather than create a constitutional leadership in Ireland under such guidance as that of Parnell. Regarding the statement that he had denounced Mr. Parnell in October, 1881, Mr. Gladstone said it was true. He had denounced Mr. Parnell severely then because Mr. Parnell more than once used language dangerous to the integrity of the empire respecting total separation from Ireland. Since that time he had actively co-operated with Parnell. Mr. Gladstone expressed confidence as to the future of the Liberal party. Mr. Gladstone also stated that when Mr. Parnell returned from Kilmahinham jail to take his seat in parliament, he (Mr. Gladstone) never heard of him repeating his dangerous language regarding the separation of Ireland from the empire. The Labor party now advocated home rule based upon giving Ireland control of her local affairs, while maintaining the integrity of the empire. If any fresh plan of home rule was to be proposed he trusted that it would be founded on rigid fidelity to those bases, neither of which can be justifiably separated.

Home Rule and the Empire. Mr. Gladstone commented on the excellent work done on the basis of home rule and the integrity of the empire. The Liberal party was conscious that the success of home rule depended upon it. As to the leadership of the Irish party, it was for the Irish people to judge. In his American manifesto Parnell seemed to put forward many questionable claims and to reckon upon sources of strength which, perhaps, he did not possess. He forgot, however, to inform the Irish Americans that he now had the support of the Tory press. Mr. Gladstone expressed his regret that Dillon and O'Brien were incarcerated, but they were not complaining, he was glad to say of ill treatment. Mr. Gladstone also condemned Balfour's methods of dealing with public assemblies in Ireland. The speech covered the Irish question very fully. Mr. Gladstone spoke of Hartlepool as showing that the Liberal party was never soldier, more self-possessed or more determined.

THE TIN PLATE TARIFF.

The Manufacturers of South Wales Are Looking for a New Market.

LONDON, March 18.—Important action is about to be taken by the Tin Manufacturers' association with a view of minimizing the effect of the McKinley tariff. A proposition that meets with general approval in midland and South-west Wales looks to the reduction of the stock of tin articles in the United States as greatly as possible, so that the industry in England will suffer a less severe shock when the full effects of the new law come to be felt. At the same time employers are preparing for the reverse, which they feel certain is bound to occur, and are about to send out agents to Ceylon, Japan and China to teach the people there how to pack tea in tin plate boxes, thus opening a new market.

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the G. A. R. RUTLAND, Vt., March 18.—A general order for the observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Grand Army, which will occur on April 6, 1891, has been issued by Commander-in-Chief Veazy. According to the order a public commemorative meeting will be held by each post on the day named. The woman's relief corps and other organizations of a similar nature will be invited to participate. The general public, school children, press, etc., will also be invited to join in the celebration of the event, which, the commander says, should be fittingly observed. The programme for the occasion is left to the discretion of the post commanders.

Big Fire at Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, O., March 18.—The paper warehouse of Biedinger & Co., Walnut street, this city, was damaged to the amount of $16,000 yesterday; insurance, $11,500. Bodman & Co., who had a large stock of goods stored in the same building, were damaged to the amount of $20,000; insurance unknown.

Two Men Blown to Fragments. GIRAUVILLE, Pa., March 18.—William Mulhern and Richard Craddock were blown to fragments, and Romeo Belfo seriously injured by a premature explosion of powder at the Beadio colliery in this place yesterday.

THE OHIO LEGISLATURE.

The Senate Passed the McGrew Bill, Giving Springfield Reform Government—Garber Salary Bill in the House.

COLUMBUS, March 18.—The senate passed the McGrew bill, giving Springfield reform government. It is similar to the Youngstown law. It creates a board of public works and board of fire and police commissioners. They are non-partisan and appointed by the mayor. Mr. Fleumerfelt's bill to allow people of Venice township, Seneca county, to vote upon the question of releasing sureties of the late Representative Brant, their defaulting treasurer, passed the senate. It is claimed that the amount yet wanting is about $1,400, and Mr. Brant failed to collect fees in like amount. The following bills were introduced in the senate:

Making the examination and licensing of stationary engineers in cities and villages compulsory.

Providing for the appointment by the probate judge of Seneca county of a non-partisan board of revision in Tiffin and Fostoria.

The senate postponed action on the Cincinnati charter bill until next Thursday.

The senate passed McGrew's house bill, which amends the replevin law so that the defendant may give bond and retain possession of property the same as plaintiff.

On Senator Messie's motion, the senate adjourned at 4 p. m. out of respect to St. Patrick's day.

The house spent the day in considering the Garber salary bill and will require several more sittings to complete the same. The house immediately went into committee of the whole on the fee and salary bill.

AGAINST PARNELL.

Cincinnati Irishmen Prepared to Greet the Delegation with a Snub.

CINCINNATI, O., March 18.—Resolutions were introduced yesterday at two public meetings of Irishmen, held at Greenwood and Music hall, condemnatory of the arrival of the Irish parliamentary envoys as seeking to transfer their intestine strife to the United States. The meetings pledged themselves to work unitedly against representatives of Parnell or McCarthy who may arrive here, and advises the delegation now here to return to Ireland, resign their seats, go to the country, have a simultaneous election held in all the constituencies, free from all influences, governmental or clerical, and then they will decide in supporting the majority of the members elected.

PRESERVATION EXTRAORDINARY.

A Child's Body Preserved in a Wet Grave for Thirty-Five Years.

CINCINNATI, O., March 18.—The work of removing 3,000 bodies from the old Methodist Protestant cemetery, in the suburbs of the city, was begun a week ago. Yesterday the workmen made a curious discovery. The metallic coffin of a child was found imbedded in clay and water, and on removing the outer covering, the features of a little girl were seen as natural as life and remarkably beautiful. Her body had been perfectly preserved, although the date on the marble slab showed that the little one had been buried 35 years ago. The cemetery is to be converted into a park.

KEPT HIS PROMISE.

VAN WERT, O., March 18.—Barney Madden celebrated St. Patrick's Day by hanging himself at his home. He made an unsuccessful attempt to kill himself by firing two shots. He then tied a rope around his neck and jumped off the top of a barrel, breaking his neck. He told some friends that he would die on St. Patrick's Day. The unfaithfulness of his wife is supposed to have caused his rash act. He was of Irish descent and about 55 years old.

Suit Over Mrs. Cleveland's Photos.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—The pictures of Mrs. Cleveland are the basis of another suit filed in the United States court by C. M. Bell, a Washington City photographer, against the Krebs lithographing company. Mr. Bell recently brought suit against the Henderson-Achert company, successors to the Krebs company, on the same account, but it turned out that when the Henderson-Achert company found the pictures among the property bought they destroyed them in the presence of witnesses. Bell now sues the Krebs company for $34,000, $1 for each picture sold, claiming that he had an exclusive right to sell Mrs. Cleveland's portraits.

Heavy Failure at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., March 18.—The Variety Iron Works company failed yesterday, with liabilities ranging from $175,000, as claimed, to $300,000, as estimated by disinterested people. The First National bank has been carrying the Variety Works company's paper for about a year, but got pinched recently in some jewelry failures, and recorded a deed which it held for the Variety Works' property. The concern was one of the oldest of its kind in the country. The assets are unknown.

Stevens' Case Postponed.

CINCINNATI, O., March 18.—Ex-Police Commissioner William A. Stevens, charged with the murder of Henry Wood Sunday night at the shooting park on Price Hill, appeared in the police court yesterday. His case was postponed to await the coroner's inquest. Stevens was released on his old bond of $10,000.

CONDENSED OHIO NEWS.

Near Bethel a coon was killed weighing thirty-three pounds.

John Taylor, an insane ex-soldier of Salem has just been granted a pension of $7.50 per month.

The Titonville (O.) Pottery company has brought suit against the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad company for $5,000 damages to property by reason of the construction of the railroad so close to the building as to prevent access to it.

Edward Mills, of New Lisbon, who is only recovering from two pistol wounds inflicted from a gun in the hands of Ben Woods, got drunk and attempted to clean out his brother's restaurant. Mills was arrested and sent thirty days to the work house.

Pleuro-Pneumonia Among Cattle.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 18.—A herd of twenty-five cattle belonging to David Horr, of Mountville, this county, have pleuro-pneumonia and the United States authorities have quarantined the herd. Some of Horr's cattle have recently been sold to Philadelphia butchers.

TURF NOTES.

Cleveland has become weary of all trotting, and will have a running meeting during the coming season.

At the recent annual meeting in London of the National Trotting Union of Great Britain the American rules were adopted.

Jimmy Rowe, the starter at Clifton, says he likes starting horses better than training them, and has made up his mind to stick to it.

Trotters sold at auction in this country last year brought a total of $1,604,761. Thoroughbreds sold in the same way realized $1,692,080.

The name of the 2-year-old half sister to El Rio Key and Emperor of Norfolk is Lo Tambien. The name is Spanish and is significant, as it means "Me Too."

Secretary Shaw, of the Twin City Jockey club, announces that the total number of entries for the nine stake races next July is 488, nearly 100 more than last year.

The Vermont Association of Road and Trotting Horse Breeders will hold its annual meeting on the kite shaped track at White River Junction on Aug. 25, 26 and 27.

George Engeman, of the Clifton track, says he will continue to have racing regularly, whether he can have betting or not, as he proposes to keep faith with the horse owners and his employees, even if he does it at a heavy loss, which he can stand.

Lord Marcus Beresford, who was the official starter of the English Jockey club, and who resigned to become manager of the racing stable of Baron de Hirsch, in which the Prince of Wales is also interested, has an engagement for three years at $3,000 a year.

The Chicago Horseman says that when it is fully realized that the future usefulness and the length of the lives of horses depend upon the way in which they are treated during the winter more attention will be paid to their surroundings and general management.

The leading horsemen of Montana and the presidents of the Montana Racing associations recently held a meeting at Anaconda and appointed committees to negotiate with railways to bring eastern stables to the state meetings. The purses for the various events this year will amount to $121,000, and they will be further increased.

Gregory, the conqueror of Reclaire in a match race as a 2-year-old, is one of the grandest looking specimens of a thoroughbred. He has grown wonderfully during the past year, and is now sixteen hands high and fully developed. He appears to be as sound as on the day he was foaled, and great things are expected of him next year.
